Richard Long was born in Bristol, UK in 1945, and studied at West of England College of Art, Bristol (1962–65), then St Martin's School of Art. In 1967, Richard Long, then twenty-two years old and a student at Saint Martin's School of Art in London, created 'A Line Made by Walking', an action by Richard Long—the creation of a transient line in nature made by repeatedly walking back and forth in a grassy field which...
